

Today's Editor
CAMI JONER

cami.joner@columbian.com

Wed., Jan. 28, 2009

People

Kathy Condon, Vancouver-based business performance coach, has been named a finalist in the Business Careers category of the National Best Books 2008 Awards for her book, "It Doesn't Hurt to Ask: All About Communication." The recognition comes from USA Book News, an online publication that covers books from mainstream and independent publishers. Condon provides consulting services to a variety of clients from individual professionals to manufacturing and high tech employers.

If business growth is your goal, you need to stand out in your field. Melding form & function, we deliver attractive designs that help your business grow above and beyond the competition.

Your growth is our business.

A division of
Doug Williams & Associates
360.695.8100
www.dougwilliams.com